PNSAS INTERAGENCY UPDATE

Coronavirus Pandemic
The coronavirus pandemic is an extraordinary event and its impact on our education and behavioral health system is unprecedented. The Pennsylvania Network for Student Assistance Services (PNSAS) understands there are many questions about SAP trainings and services and we share your sense of urgency. We assure you that we are in this together and will work collaboratively to ensure that we minimize disruptions to SAP-related service delivery across the state.

Considerations for Remote Screening/Assessment during COVID-19 for SAP Liaisons
PNSAS is pleased to share a recently developed document for SAP liaisons with considerations for remote screening/assessment, as well as outreach to school SAP teams during COVID-19. Please note that this document is not meant to provide guidance, nor are the questions and considerations within required. Rather, it is meant to serve as a helpful resource with suggested areas for discussion for SAP liaison agencies that may be adjusting current protocols during COVID-19. The document can be found here.

SAP FACTS

Training
We continue our series on the Pennsylvania Student Assistance Program Components and Indicators that focus on SAP best practices. This month highlights the eighth essential component of SAP best practice, which is “Training”. The original handbook can be located on the SAP website at http://pnsas.org/Portals/0/About%20SAP/SAP%20Teams/componentsandindicators.pdf?ver=2020-01-29-185933-200. If you missed any of the previously discussed components see the September 2019 to March 2020 SAP Connections provided on the PNSAS website http://pnsas.org.

Component Eight: Training includes five aspects for optimal team functioning:
• Team members participate in all Commonwealth Approved Training
• Team members participate in a maintenance and development training program
• Team has adequate training schedule and budget
• Team members have opportunity and support for advanced SAP training
• School and community agency staff participate in ongoing SAP training
Have you ever taken a class to advance your knowledge in a particular area or used a YouTube DIY video to learn how to do something? Have you scheduled a routine doctor’s appointment to ensure you are healthy? Have you scheduled a get-away for some much needed ‘rest and relaxation?’ These all serve different purposes, albeit important purposes, much in the same way training does for SAP Team members.

Each team member completes the requisite SAP Training to begin serving on a team. However, our learning related to this work is really just beginning! Best practice recommends that teams have a schedule and budget to support critical ongoing professional development. If your team does not have this practice in place, it is recommended your team meet to discuss this with your administrator. Your team should identify your individual training needs and the estimated costs associated before this meeting. A few ideas to consider:

- The monthly SAP Connection newsletter is a great place to find resources. There are many webinars available at no cost to teams. Find current and past newsletters on the website at http://pnsas.org/About-SAP/SAP-County-Coordination.
- Many counties have SAP conferences, networking days or workshops at minimal cost to the attendees.
- Treatment providers are often available to come and provide updates on current trends at no cost to teams.
- Pennsylvania Standards Aligned System (SAS) is a resource provided by PDE and provides free training https://www.pdesas.org/

SAP Team Maintenance is another best practice critical for team functioning. Teams, including SAP liaisons, are encouraged to schedule these at least twice per year, with facilitation by someone that is not part of the team. The Pennsylvania Approved SAP Training Providers are available to assist and some of the PNSAS Regional Coordinators may be available. Maintenance sessions are a great time to celebrate successes, review team data, recognize challenges, and develop an action plan. Visit the PNSAS website for a variety of very useful resources http://pnsas.org/About-SAP/SAP-Teams.

There are many great resources available to teams that include training, publications, lesson plans, etc. that can serve to enhance your team’s knowledge and skill set. This list is not all-inclusive.

RESOURCES

PA Department of Human Services

PA Support & Referral Helpline
The Department of Human Services (DHS) launched a statewide Support & Referral Helpline staffed by skilled and compassionate staff who will be available 24/7 to assist Pennsylvanians struggling with anxiety and other challenging emotions due to the COVID-19 emergency and refer them to community-based resources that can further help to meet individual needs. The toll-free, round-the-clock support line is officially operational. The number to call is 1-855-284-2494. For TTY, dial 724-631-5600.

To create and staff the support line, DHS has partnered with the Center for Community Resources (CCR), an experienced regional crisis and call center provider based in Butler County and licensed to provide crisis services. CCR staff are trained to be accessible, culturally competent, and skilled at assisting individuals with mental illness, intellectual disabilities, co-occurring disorders and other special needs. Staff use the principles of trauma-informed care to listen, assess needs, triage calls, and provide appropriate referral to community resources to children, teens, adults and special populations.

PA Department of Education

Coronavirus (COVID-19) School Community Guidance & Resources
Mitigation efforts related to the Coronavirus (COVID-19) in Pennsylvania have required everyone to work within rapidly changing, complex circumstances which create a variety of unique situations and conditions for students, staff, educators, caregivers, and communities. The Pennsylvania Department of Education is committed to providing school communities with ongoing guidance, resources, and information. Go here to access the resource page which is updated regularly.
PA Promoting Positive Learning Climates Online
The Pennsylvania Department of Education has developed a resource list to support educators' and parents' efforts to maintain a positive learning climate while students are physically separated from their teachers and classmates due to the COVID-19 school closures. The list is organized by the three elements of a positive learning climate - safety, support, and social & emotional learning - that have been shown to contribute to welcoming schools and support positive youth development. Since the community impacts of COVID-19 may be similar to what occurs during a natural disaster, many of the resources are specific to the unique needs of children impacted by an infectious disease outbreak or another community trauma. Please pay careful attention to these resources and use them to inform your interactions with students. Other resources are more generic and can be used flexibly and in combination based upon the specific needs of learners. Access the resource list here. NOTE: links shared that take users beyond the Pennsylvania Department of Education's website to a non-PDE website, organization, product, process, service, manufacturer, or company do not constitute endorsement or recommendation by PDE, and, PDE is not responsible for the content featured on any of the sites or pages referenced. Educators should be mindful of digital resources that require teachers or students to create online accounts. Please check with district policies and consider HIPPA, FERPA, and COPPA laws with regards to student privacy BEFORE implementing any of these resources.

Other Resources
If you need to connect with resources in your community, but don’t know where to look, Pennsylvania 211 is a great place to start. From help with a utilities bill, to housing assistance, after-school programs for kids, and more, you can dial 211 or text your zip code to #898-211 to talk with a resource specialist for free. The specialist will listen to your needs, and give you information on programs in your community that might be able to help.

Visit the guided 211 search page to explore programs available in your community by categories such as financial assistance, housing, and food.

Accessing Emergency Food Assistance Information for Pennsylvanians
PA Agriculture Secretary Russell Redding has issued guidance for accessing emergency food assistance for Pennsylvanians at risk of hunger due to measures to slow the spread of COVID-19. During this time of major precautions to reduce risks of spreading COVID-19, those out of work, those who rely on college meal plans, school meals to feed their children, and those who are isolated may not know where to turn for food,” Secretary Redding said. “No Pennsylvanian should go hungry, even in these extraordinary times.” Go here for more information on emergency food assistance. The Pennsylvania Department of Education website provides information on accessing meals for students while schools are closed.

Centers for Disease Control: Stress and Coping
The outbreak of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) may be stressful for people. Fear and anxiety about a disease can be overwhelming and cause strong emotions in adults and children. Coping with stress will make you, the people you care about, and your community stronger. The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) has provided information and suggestions for handling stress and helping loved ones cope, including behavior changes to watch for in children as well as ways to support them during this time. Access the information here.
